Submission on the Water Sharing Plan for the Toowoomba River Unregulated and Alluvial Water Sources 2010 by Fulligans Pty Ltd.

Environmental outcomes: the plan has preserved and maintained the river flow. We have experienced no issues. Our livestock drinks the river water, and we believe the quality of the water has been maintained.

Social outcomes: locals have become more aware of their usage and responsibility for not overusing. It has also increased everyone's capacity to access water when in need, without effecting our rights as landholders.

Economic outcomes: the increased responsibility to not overuse water has decreased water wastage and led to more effective water management procedures for the benefit of all.

Extent to which the plan has contributed to meeting its objectives: the ability to share, use or sell water across the community has definitely increased, as well as the preservation of the river flow and quality of the water.

Changes to be made to the plan to improve outcomes: none – we are happy with the plan as is.
